The Custom Model D Cutaway by Santa Cruz Guitars is constructed with a Sitka spruce top, Brazilian rosewood back and sides, an ebony bridge and fretboard, and rosewood binding. Prices for the Model D start at $1,500.00, including a case. Santa Cruz Guitars, 328 Ingalls Ave., Santa Cruz, CA 95060.

The Hide-Side Resonator Cover is designed to help protect your banjo from scratches. The cover, made from sheepskin, retails for $21.95. Harbor Center Guitars, 555 Francisco Blvd., San Rafael, CA 94901.

The Stadium 30 Bass Amp is a compact, vinyl-covered unit that features an 8" speaker enclosed in a tuned and ported cabinet. Acoustic bassists looking for easy-to-carry sound reinforcement may like the amp's dimensions of 14" x 15-7/8" x 8-3/4". The unit has a frequency response of 40Hz to 18,000Hz, and weighs less than 25 pounds. The suggested list price is $199.95. Rhythm Electronics, 161 South MacQuesten Parkway, Mount Vernon, NY 10550.

The Adamas Cutaway, Model 1587, has a carbon-graphite composite top; a Lyrachord (a fiberglass and resin compound) "bowl" back; a resin-impregnated, reinforced walnut fretboard; and a built-in, stereo acoustic-electric pickup and pre-amp system. The guitar retails for $2,290.00. Ovation Instruments, Blue Hills Ave., Box 4, Bloomfield, CT 06002.

The Model 7401E Vocal Microphone by Philips is a ball-head dynamic cardioid mike with an internal, locking on/off switch. The microphone, which has a frequency range of 50Hz to 16,000Hz, comes with a detachable XLR-XLR cable. It retails for $135.00. Philips, 77 Selleck St., Stamford, CT 06902.

The Banana Guitar Tuner features pitch calibration and a built-in speaker, generating tuning frequencies for E, A, D, G, B, and E. The tuner uses a quartz crystal and has a battery eliminator jack for using an optional AC adaptor. LED lights tell the player which way to tune if the note being played is outside the range of the meter. The tuner's lighted meter and control panel helps players in tuning onstage or backstage. The retail price is $49.95. Banana Musical Products, Box 1058, San Juan Capistrano, CA 92693.

October 1982 $1.75 (Canadian $2.00, UK £1.10)
